Re: Correspondence

The Workers' Compensation system requires certain filings to be made with the Utah Labor Commission. The official forms that are necessary to be filed are found in Rule 612-1-3. We receive many additional documents that get coded into our system but are not needed. Examples of these documents include physicians progress notes, letters that are attached to forms (#089 – Employee Notification of Denial of Claim; #441 - Insurance Carrier/Self Insurers Notice of Further Notification of WC Claim), and miscellaneous letters to claimants.

These extra or “unnecessary” documents will no longer be coded and entered by the Division, so please only file documents that are mandated by rule.

Questions or concerns regarding this clarification should be addressed to:
